Council

Student Council had a very successful 2003-2004 school year under the leadership of President Ben Thornley, Vice President Amy Anderson, Secretary Kelli Warden, and Treasurer Jessica Weast. The committees and class officers were responsible for planning a variety of school and community events. They made every effort to encourage students to live out this year's theme of "Pure Passion" for Christ.

HULA HOOP QUEEN

TALKING TO GOD

Pam Mealiff and Una Henry take time to pray for students, staff, and for MCC at a STUCO meeting.

Freshman Experience

"I remember when a group of guys got together and filled Josh Lewis' truck bed with water and had a pool party. We had buckets, squirt guns, and even a beach ball! Afterward we opened the tailgate of the truck and flooded the parking lot. That was some fun stuff."

Kevin Raybon

CHEESE

WHO WILL BE THE NEXT STAR?

Cameron Stevenson showed off all of his talent at Star Search Battle of the Bands.

Senior Speaks Out

"My favorite memory was the senior class trip, because it was a time for us to get out of town and away from the school and just hang out."

Michelle McNew

LET'S HEAR IT FOR THE BOYS

Brent Miller, Steve Greene, Josh Lewis, Russel Green, Luke Wright, Cody Waterman, Michael Turkovic, Jacob Bollhoefer, and Tyler Branine pose for a group shot at the Sock-Hop party and wait for the ladies to ask them to dance. The party was sponsored by the Sophomore Class officers.

TAKE A BREATHER

Sara Keller and Mavryn Hostetler rest under a tree after being involved in the Skip Day activities.

Skip Day!

A day to relax

Skip Day is held annually by the Student Activities Committee. This year's activities included a cookout, volleyball tournament, HALO tournament, basketball and softball games. Some people also went out to the rope swing in Wamego and to Pillsbury Crossing. This is a day when students, faculty, and staff take a break from school for the day.

COME AND GET IT!

Students line up for some fresh grilled hamburgers for lunch.

BUMPI! SET! SPIKE!

Several students get out in the hot weather to play a little volleyball.

LOS HIJOS DE DIOS

The group serving in Mexico poses with some of the children they were working with.

Squeaky Clean

Kallie Pennel gets down 'n' dirty. It looks like she got that toilet so clean that she could see her reflection! It's just too bad the rusty tile does not exactly measure up, but that looks to be a nearly impossible feat.

BEHOLD!

His Majesty, Kory Pedersen, graces the Joplin youth with his presence.

A TIME TO REMEMBER

The New Orleans team gathers in close to capture the memory of the bond they shared on the trip.

GOTTA LOVE THE BABY!

The team that went to Colorado gets in a group shot, along with Addison Longenecker, with the Rocky Mountains in view.

CHEERFUL GIVERS

Meaghan Smith, Val Hetrick, and Beth Voth, who helped with the Flint Hills Breadbasket, are all smiles when they stop to pose with the fire extinguisher for a quick snapshot.

BIG BABIES

It seems that Zac Johnson and Brad Shank just couldn't hack it and resorted to infantile measures.

Over Spring Break, some MCC students chose to sacrifice their time, money, and energy in order to serve others in Kerusso Dayz mission projects. Groups were sent to Joplin, MO; Sonoita, Mexico; New Orleans, LA; Colorado Springs, CO. A smaller group also served here in Manhattan with the Flint Hills Breadbasket.

Participating students had nothing but great things to say about their experiences. They are always eager to share about the fond memories and wonderful learning they experienced on their short term trips.

"Alabaster this year was one of the most motivating and meaningful confences I have ever been to. I learned that I can be a huge influence on someone's life just by letting God work in me. Seeing the passion on the faces of those who heard the messages on purity of mind, body, soul and spirit touched me in a way that I had never been touched before. I will never forget the days I spent at Alabaster."

Ministries

Student-Led Ministries

Students at MCC take part in many ministries during their time at college. Opportunities include: drama, interpretive dancing, prison ministry, nursing home visits and many more. These ministries help students develop leadership skills, by putting them into situations where they will lead. Even though this is a way for students to fulfill their Christian Service requirements, the students practice how to be effective leaders.

GO MCC!

CHAPEL WORSHIP TEAM

Kathryn Franz, Mr. McBride, and John Nunnally lead worship in Jolliffe Hall for chapel.

NURSING HOME MINISTRY

"While being a part of the Nursing Home Ministry I had the opportunity to step outside of my comfort zone. Spending time with the elderly was an experience I will never forget."

Russel Green

MINISTRY FAIR

During the Fall Semester a Ministry Fair was held so students could learn more about the ministries offered at MCC. The goal is that every student will be involved.

"Going to the nursing home, singing and spending time with the people, was an enjoyable experience. This helped me to be comfortable around people that I usually do not spend time with"

Laura Miles

A DIFFERENT VIEW

Will Heck, Greg Belew, Laura Mann, Darlene Kaufman, Jeri Ward, Kallie Pennel, Dustin Dick, and Kayla Campbell of A Different View, the drama team at MCC, pose outside of the Chapel after a performance.

What is Chapel all about?

Chapel is a time that the student body comes together to worship God as one. Several students helped in making chapel run smoothly. Some helped by leading, others by serving communion and collecting the offering. Communion is taken on the first Tuesday of every month and offering was collected every Thursday for various ministries. The speakers ranged from MCC staff to alumni. Chapel was truly a time to fellowship.

FIRST KENOYER PROPOSAL OF YEAR!!

Jessica Burnett laughs hysterically while her, now fiancée Matt, asks her to marry him. She said, "YES!"

Girls, girls, girls! That is what Kenoyer Hall is full of...lots of girls. The various suites of Kenoyer enjoy bonding in just about every way through functions, late night pizza fixes, all day movie marathons, and of course, homework. Because of the great floor plan of Kenoyer Hall people had terrific opportunities for bonding, which made life in Manhattan much happier and easier to adjust to.

Girlish dreams, boys to giggle over, and the everlasting pile of homework, that really should have been started on four days ago, are common themes. Many have made friends for life. While within these walls, girls can be carefree and crazy away from prying boys' eyes. Memories that will last a lifetime, some good, some bad, are made here in our home away from home.

Intramurals

For all those who love sports and who feel left out...

Athletic or Not?

For those of you who are either less competitive or less athletic, but still like playing sports on a lighter scale, listen carefully. You are the reason intramurals were invented. Intramurals are activities that everyone can participate in, even those who do not get up every morning to run 10 miles or do one million crunches a day. With softball and hockey offered in the winter, and basketball and volleyball scheduled in the spring, no matter how athletic you are there is a game to play.

COMPETITIVE GAMES

After all the classes, meetings, jobs, and other time consuming activities, MCC students still find time to relax and just be themselves. There are a variety of different events and activities that students participate in to amuse and entertain themselves.

These events include computer games, board games, and any other creative idea that the minds of the students can come up with. There is never a time when nothing is going on.

Deckard

The end of an era

Mr. Deckard has devoted the last ten years to preparing students for ministry. Many students have been influenced by his knowledge of the Bible and wisdom of God. Instead of a cushy retirement, Mr. Deckard plans to help plant churches in his home state of Maryland, where he will be close to his children and grandchildren. He will be greatly missed.

TEACHING

Mr. Deckard awaits the chapel service to begin next to Michael Pegues, MCC Alum 1999.

ONE LAST TIME...

Mrs. Deckard joins her husband for his final time to speak in chapel. She also attended the reception afterwards in honor of their service at MCC.

THE OSCAR GOES TO...

Starring as Caiaphas in the 1996 MCC Easter Pageant, Mr. Deckard dressed the part in complete costume and makeup.

"STUFF THE KITCHEN"

The Deckards set a record at one of their picnics when they fit 25 faculty and staff in their kitchen.

MOVING DAY

TEACHING

Mr. Deckard rests by the podium waiting for class to start.

ANOTHER ONE?

Mr. Deckard holds his grandchild, the newest arrival to the family. The Deckard's have a total of ten grandchildren.

A Future

It is hard to imagine what a five year old child will do in the future. We never know what is in store for us. Loren probably did not even suspect that some day he would move to Kansas to teach in a Christian College.

GROUP LEARNING

Academics often involve a great deal of classroom time, which often means a good amount of lecture time. Here, students with Ms. Beddow are learning by working together.

PASSIONATE SERVANT

Rusty Thornley is the passionate professor of the Cross-Cultural degree program.

Greek

Greek is part of the curriculum for all B.A. students. John Zizz is taking a test in Mr. Delort's first year Greek class.

NOTES, NOTES, NOTES

Students in Dr. Davis' Doctrine class are ready to learn and take lots of class lecture notes.

THE BACK ROW

Academics

In the Classroom

The most obvious mode of learning is in the classroom. The classroom is where students get the greatest exposure to professors. It is in these classrooms where the students of Manhattan Christian College are being equipped with the tools necessary for going out into the world and making a difference for the Kingdom of God.

EDUCATING

Mr. Sullivan teaches his class about Western Civilization.

EQUIPPING

Joe Schutte, Melissa Pike, and Seth Taylor prepare for ministry in Spiritual Warfare class.

CREATIVE DECORATING

Tucking herself into a cubby hole made of furniture, Maggie Gilchrist works at her computer.

Library

Of all the places outside the classroom dedicated to academics, the library is one of the most frequented. Here, Craig Patrick looks over one of MCC's 41,000 volumes.

CATCH UP

Making up a missed test is rarely this much fun, but it appears to be one of the highlights of Aaron Slemph's day.

MULTI-TASKING?

Some students have the gift of being able to study anywhere. Ashley Robinson, Rose Applequist, and Rebekah Waterman are actually able to study and hang out at the same time!

A SUITABLE ATMOSPHERE

A nice setting can do great things for Brenna Blackmore and her study time.

BILL GATES STRIKES AGAIN

Dogs don't eat papers any more but Microsoft is sure able to do a number on them. Luckily, Aaron Brent has long been the resident computer guru.

COMFORTABLE STUDYING

Katie Wilcox thought she had found the key to enduring long hours of study. What she learned, however, was that it was also a great place for a nap.

Of course, not all learning takes place in the classroom. Creative students find a variety of places to study and to prepare for classes. Outside the classroom the students put into practice the information they have learned. It is away from the classroom where experience becomes the new teacher.

Learning Is Fun

Sharing Experience

Dr. Paddock shares experience gained from the years of ministry that he has been involved with during a LEAD class.

The LEAD (Leadership Education for Adult Development) Program, established in 1994, is a degree completion program for people wishing to continue their education. The students are "non-traditional" and are usually people who work full-time. Two sessions begin each year, one in the spring and one in the fall. The program consists of 16 modules. Classes meet Monday or Tuesday nights, from 6:00 to 10:00 pm. For most people, the course takes about 23 months to complete, depending on how many credit hours they start with. Students are allowed to bring transcripts, technical hours, training hours, and military hours into the program. One hundred twenty credit hours are needed to graduate. Approximately 37 students graduate each year, earning a Bachelor of Science in Management and Ethics.

Woman's Interior Design World

This year's Woman's World was held on February 27-28, 2004 in the Student Union at Kansas State University. The theme was "Interior Design." The theme was designed around 1 Samuel 16:7b "The Lord does not look at the things man looks at. Man looks at the outward appearance, but the Lord looks at the heart." It was a wonderful weekend filled with seminars, fellowship, and praise and worship.

a fresh start

2003 was definitely an unforgettable season for the Lady Crusader volleyball team. The self-titled "Misfits" got off to a slow start, but gained some momentum and ended the season with a record of 11-16. Under the direction of first-year coach Jayme Rodriguez, the team consisted of three seniors, one junior, one sophomore, and eight freshmen. Although this team was fairly young, Rodriguez saw a great amount of talent and potential. "The season was good, and I'm looking forward to improving and making it even more successful!" With a new coach, eight new girls, new uniforms, and a new practice time of 6 AM, the "Misfits" will never forget all the memories (good, not so good, and absolutely hilarious) they created during the 2003 season.

Time Out

Members of the team take a quick water break during a tough game. "The amazing girls God allowed me to play with this year gave me a reason to fall in love with volleyball for the first time ever," said Kahla Atherton, sophomore.

Newcomer

New coach, Jayme Rodriguez, looks on as her team competes. "I enjoyed my girls, learned lots, and can't wait for next year," said Rodriguez.

The MCC Soccer girls let their cares go.

Women's

a persevering year

Soccer

This season we played a dozen games, not winning one. But...when I think of MCC women's soccer I think "memories and growth." The woman's soccer program has continued to be a teaching ground. This year we had nine new players; eight new to the game. This year's soccer season was a challenging one for the team, but each day we asked ourselves, "What did you do today to make yourself a better person for tomorrow?" (2 Corinthians 4:16-18). When growth happens, memories form. Each season has its special memories. Memories from the morning running practices to the road trip to Texas. Whenever these special young ladies think of MCC women's soccer, smiles will come to their faces!

Great Pass, Great Goal

Mark Smith controlled the middle of the field for the team this year as he passed the ball to Luke Wright for a Crusader goal.

Senior Experience

Senior forward Joe Schutte dribbles the ball past a defender and takes the ball toward the goal.

Teamwork

The Wall

Senior goalkeeper Scott Long makes a tough save during a game. The All-American goalkeeper recorded 18 shut outs this season.

Rising Talent

Freshman goalkeeper Ricky Miller gets to experience soccer at a different level as he played in the Regional Tournament for the Crusaders.

Control

Freshman midfielder Zach Michaelis controls the ball and the game for the Crusaders as Luke Wright and Joe Schutte support from behind.

This was a great year for the Manhattan Christian College Men's Soccer team. They were able to achieve many of the goals they had set for themselves at the beginning of the year. These goals included winning the Conference regular season, winning the Conference Tournament, winning the Regional Tournament, winning the National Tournament, and most importantly growing together in Christ. The guys won the conference regular season with a 7-0 record, and the Conference Tournament was also won with a 3-0 record. The Crusaders then moved on to their Regional Tournament, where they fought through two games and earned another trip to the National Tournament. At the National Tournament, they won their first game 4-0. The guys then played Clearwater and went to a penalty kick shoot-out and won. In the championship game they played Northland and lost 2-1 to finish second in the nation. Good job guys.

Tough Playing

Cory Tubbs controls the ball and beats a defender to help the MCC soccer team start their offense.

Women's Basketball

"Those who trust in the Lord are like Mount Zion, which cannot be shaken but endures forever." Psalm 125:1

Through commitment and devotion, laughter and tears, struggle and triumph, twelve teammates/friends fought their way into the National Championship game. Their season record and accomplishments broke all previous school records, but this is not what these ladies will be remembered for. Godly character defined each individual on and off the court and will be the defining memory of this team. They lived their lives in such a way that others could not encounter these women without encountering the love and joy found in God alone.

Their fierce spirit of competition and unity in spirit and purpose brought them success. Their love for Abba Father and one another sealed their friendships with a bond that cannot be broken—not to mention some pretty humorous memories.

PRAYING WITH THE BROTHERS

The men's team gathers around with the other team to pray after the game.

It was a year of firsts for the team: first ever Regional Championship; first ever #1 ranking in NCCAA II; first team to win 25 games in a season; and the school's first player to score 2,000 points and grab 1,000 rebounds (Jeff Martens). MCC finished the year with a record of 25-9, including several victories over NAIA schools. They finished 13-1 in the conference, which earned them a share of the conference title for the fourth year in a row. At the National Tournament, #3 ranked MCC was randomly selected to participate in the play-in game, which happened against the #2 team in the nation. MCC lost the hard fought battle by 3 points, which resulted in many people questioning the validity of this National Tournament. With the loss, MCC said goodbye to their five seniors. These five have rewritten the record books at MCC over the last four years.

Athletics

The mission statement of Manhattan Christian College is "To Educate, Equip, and Enrich Cristian Leaders." There are many ways in which this goal is accomplished. One way, which may be overlooked is athletics. MCC is competitive in all of the athletic events in which she participates. This is not only for the glory of the individual player, but more importantly for the glory of God. MCC has been blessed with athletes who are considered to be

All-Americans by other coaches and players throughout the nation. MCC is also blessed to have student leaders on these teams. These people are: Kahla Atherton, Melissa Blasing, Kyle Rodell, Lana Enfield, and Jeff Martens. These players were selected by their own teammates as individuals who exhibit Christian character. MCC is blessed, not only to have good teams in their respective sports, but to have strong Christian leaders.

Christian Leaders Being Sent Out

WELL DONE LADIES

Jessica Wilhelm and Heather Martens smile for a photo after completing their graduation ceremony.

Graduation. A day that will live on forever in the memories of the individuals involved. On this day there were awards given and recieved, diplomas earned, and many memories made. Most importantly, on this day there were many outstanding Christian leaders sent out into the world to go and spread the love of Christ. Graduation Day: a doorway into a life of ministry and service for the one true God.

LEAD GRADUATES

Randy Slover, Cynthia Slover, Scott Hughes, Gladys Thomas, and Brad Jones are happy that they have completed their degree programs.

CROSS-CULTURAL MINISTRIES

Professor of Cross-Cultural Ministries, Rusty Thornley, stands with Cross-Cultural Graduate, Joe Schutte.

MEMORIES

Scott Long, Dave Cook, and Nick Pannone will always remember this day. Graduation creates those memories that will never fade.

LINE UP

Marilyn Buzzell, Beverly Evans, and Donna Fox walk into the auditorium for the commencement ceremony.

BIG THUMBS UP

Dan Orozco, Chelsea Bahr, and Brody Bliss joke around at the graduation ceremony.

Pastor

Joe Zizz stands in line waiting for the commencement ceremony to begin, looking forward to completing this milestone in his life.
